DEFENCE OF KUWAIT

No. 10 have asked for details of the action which might be required of us if yesterday's incident on the Kuwait/Iraq border (Kuwait telegram No. 124) led the Kuwait Government to invoke our defence undertaking to them.

The new concept which emerged from the Defence Review, under which our commitment is limited to the provision of air support, unless we are given sufficient time (probably several weeks) to bring in ground forces from outside the theatre, took effect on 1 February 1967. The Kuwait Government have been notified and accept the position. A new "air only" plan has been drawn up and is in effect.

The plan provides for daylight patrols by the squadron of Hunter fighters/ground attack aircraft from Bahrain along the Iraq frontier and over Kuwait town, within one hour of our agreeing to render assistance. A second squadron of Hunters from Aden would be available over Kuwait in 24 hours. Two squadrons of Canberras from Cyprus could be deployed to Sharjah within 36 hours. In addition the plan provides for a squadron of Lightnings to be deployed from the United Kingdom to Bahrain within 6 days. Should the situation require it these aircraft would engage Iraqi forces within Kuwait territory and - on specific Ministerial authority - targets within Iraq.

Authority for responding to a Kuwaiti request and for the calling up of reinforcements from Cyprus and the U.K. is reserved to Ministers.

The plan provides for two States of Alert, A and B. Alert A, which may be declared on the authority of the Political Resident in Bahrain in the light of indications that the Iraqis have forces in a position to threaten Kuwait, entails the shortening of notice for RAF units. Alert B may only be declared on the authority of Ministers, and involves a high degree of readiness and the possible movement of aircraft.

In the present situation Alert A has not been declared and our forces are at their normal state of readiness. It appears from Kuwait telegram No. 125 that the Kuwaitis are taking a relaxed attitude to the incident, and that our assistance is unlikely to be called for. GCHQ have no evidence of abnormal Iraqi activity.
